POLITICS IN WILSON.

The Democrate United on Party Questions. Correspondence of the News.

WILSON, August 6. The election over and all having gone to their respective places, it is to be hoped the excitement and bad blood, if any were engendered, will die away and be cured, and that the defection from what you call the Demecratic party by reason of the various indepen-dent candidates will not cause irreparable damage or serious hurt to the country. So far as this county is concerned I am satisfied that were there a party election to be held in November, the Democracy of Wilson would be as thoroughly united as ever it was. In matters of county government our peo-ple reserve to themselves the right, and will continue to insist on it, to vote for whom they believe best fitted for places of honor and trust, and will not hesitate to ventilate and expose those who do not come up to their standard. No matter whether newspapers call them disorganizers or not. We have determined to declare independence of party shackles when it is proposed to compel obedience to nominations of men for county officers unfitted for them.

In 1874 we had as warm a county canvass as the one just past, and as hard work done for Independents as in this. Yet, when we came to a political war, we all stood shoulder to shoulder, and in 1876 gave the largest Democratic majority ever before given. Such being the case, I think it is time now for you to stop giving such bad names to the Independents, and such horrible expressions of anathema as you furnished for the suaday reading of the News' readers in last Sunday's Steam Wagons.

New York Tribune. A prize of $10,000 awaits the man who will invent a steam wagon that will satisfy the Wisconsin Commissioners. They have been subjecting two wagons to rigid tests and have recently decided to withhold the bounty. It appears from their report that one of these wagons, the Oshkosh, made a run of 201 miles, on common roads, passing over grades of at least 1,400 feet to the mile, in thirty-three hours and twenty-seven minutes, or an average of six miles per hour; that it hauled loads, ploughed and answered every requirement of the law; and that, if mere capacity or ability to do these things is all that ought to be insisted upon, its proprietors are clearly entitled to the bounty offered by the State. The Commissioners, however, are not satisfied that even this machine is, in the language of the law, 'a cheap and practical substitute for the use of horses and other animals on the highway and farm." It may be used to great advantage for thrashing and hauling machines from farm to farm, for heavy teaming on the high-way, and for many kinds of work upon large farm, but the Commissioners are not prepared to say that a machine costing $1,000, and requiring a daily outlay of from two to six dollars, can be considered a cheap or practical substitute for horses or mules or oxen upon farm or highways.

M. A. Angier. Hillsboro Recorder. Amid the wreck and crash of Democratic organization in this county, it is satisfactory to know that at least one good man has escaped as a memento of a better day. Mr. Angier survives, and is elected as a representative of a sentiment which recognizes solid worth, and unflinching party integrity; and around him may gather the fragments out of which to find a future reconstruction. It is the solidity of his character and the firmness of his principles, rather than his brilliancy of parts that give his election its significance. He will make a good and useful member, and we wish the people of Orange could have exhibited the good sense to have expressed the same appreciation of his less fortunate coadjutor.

John R. Hutchins.

Hillsboro Recorder. The Democrats of Orange ought greatly to regret their failure to secure as one of their Representatives a gen-tleman who would have been so eminently useful as a legislator. He is a man who knows what the wants of the people are, and who could have been untiring in intelligent zeal to supply them, or active in watchful solicitude to defend them. It is a matter of reproach to them that so much of genuine worth should have been so little appreciated, and it denies them hereafter the justice of any complaint in regard to nominations. They were offered the man they had long demanded, and they repudiated him; and they confirmed the power professional politicans have over them, and against which they seemed so willing to rebel. Mr. Hutchins is not the man to complain of his defeat. He did not seek political honors. He was brought out of his retirement by what seemed to be a popular demand. He remains therein with the proud satisfaction of sacrificing no principle of manhood or honor. The oss is that of the people, not his.

The election of officers gives general satisfaction. Captain Freeland filled the same position during the "late unpleasantness," with credit to himself and honor to the lost cause, and consequently he is thoroughly acquainted with the duties of his office. The Lieutenants are all young men, unused to cannon's roar and sabre's clash, but their native talent and invincible energy will soon cultivate a knowledge of the manual of arms. The roll now numbers about 50, with a probability of accessions. Application for arms, equipments, &c., will be made at once, and it is proposed to push matters forward so as to be in readiness for the approaching State Fair. The time for preparation is short, it is true, but it is characteristic of Durham that whatever she does is done well and without undue delay. A TERRIBLE ACCIDENT.

Collision on a Railway--Fearful Loss of Life. By Telegraph to the News. PITTSBURG, PA., August 7.—The fast line on the Pittsburg, Cincinnati and St. Louis Railroad, which left this city at 11.47 last night, met with a terrible accident at a point one and a half miles west of Mingo Junction, Ohio. The train was composed of two sleepers, one hotel car, one baggage, two postal cars and two coaches, the latter being occupied by emigrants. At one a. m.,

A. W. Graham. Hillsboro Recorder. This gentleman was emphatically the Democratic standard bearer of the campaign. Upon him fell the whole burden of the conflict, since Mr. Turner sought no other opponent as worthy of his blows. Mr. Graham's candidacy for the Senate might have relieved him from the responsibility of conflict and justified him in looking to interests which he jeopardized, and fatally, by confining himself to the campaign in Orange. But Mr. Hutchins was too inwell to engage actively in debate, and Mr. Angier was too inexperienced in such warfare to offer himself as a match for a veteran talker as Josiah Turner. And therefore Mr. Graham took upon his own shoulders the burden he felt he must bear, or sacrifice the cause of the whole Democratic party. If the issue has been calamitous in one respect, it has been profitable in others, for it has demonstrated the capacity of Mr. Graham for perfect self-reliance. He had been injured by imputations upon the sources of his claims upon upon the sources of his claims upon popular favor. He had proved himselt perfectly independent of an adventitious aids. Beginning the campaign inexperienced as a debater, he conducted it, and ended it with a reputation second to no one who has of late preceded him. His speech at Hillsboro, (and it is but a specimen of the others) was really one of the best earnaign efforts we ever listened to. eampaign efforts we ever listened to. He was fluent in utterance, animated in manner, abounding in fact, strong in argument, bold in proclaiming his facts, and irresistible in their application; fair and generous, yet inexorable in establishing his points; and this we find to have been the characteristic of his efforts everywhere. And in addition to this, sparing no labor, and shunning no inconvenience; speaking here at Hills-boro at night to a large audience of white people after an arduous day's work at a distant precinct, and after the closing of the appointments, going to Red Mountain, and meeting Turner most unexpectedly to the latter.

Certainly A. W. Graham emerges from the campaign elevated even above the expectations of his friends; and exacting the respect even of his opponents, busy, openly and secretly in defaming him. And through him, when it does rise again, the star of the Democratic party in Orange will emerge from its will be of incalculable advantage to the section through which it is to pass. From Statesville this road will run through the rich and productive lands around Olin and Turnersburg, thence through the fine country around the flourishing little village of Elkin, opening up and developing the country around Mt. Airy, then which there is no finer tobacco land in the State of North Carolina or Virginia. From this latter point the road was be extended in the direction of Lynchburg or the East Tennesses Road, and a branch can be run to Danville. So we may say here is a vast extent of fine country, to be opened up by means of the road, which will make a link in a direct line from Washington to Chardirect line from Washington to Charlotte. The road is what we want and the road is what we must have.

North Carolina Must Have a Better School System.

Happy Heme Educator. A good deal of money is spent annually in keeping the common schools running during a part of the year. Not one-half is expended in that direction. Not less than six hundred thousand dollars should be annually appropriated in educating the children of North Carolina. It would be money wisely spent. It would come back a hundred fold in the services which thousands of the children thus favored would render the State. Our forefathers well understood what was necessary for the perpetuity of our free institutions. Upon the intelligence and purity of the people it all depends. A constitutional government cannot last when it rests upon the long suffering and forbearance of a vicious, corrupt and illiterate people. Hence it behooves us to make a very uncommon effort to extend the blessuncommon effort to extend the blessings of education, and to bring every child in the State more or less under the benign and healthful influences of well regulated public and private

This cannot be done without money This cannot be done unless we have a better system than the present one. We say it deliberately, and with some knowledge of the system that it is painfully defective, and should be rem-edied. The man who will give the children of North Carolina ample educa-tional facilities, and will devise a sys-tem that shall meet the demands of the age, will indeed be a public benefactor.

Wonderful Escape from Death. Wilmington Star.

Mr. J. D. We venture to say that "style," the astonishment, and to the surprise of astonishment, and to the surprise of all present, he found the man alive and done as much to corrupt the women of apparently uninjured, with the excep-tion of a broken leg. He was put aboard of the train and left on the platform at Lynchburg. Mr. Jameson says that in a conversation he had with the injured man the latter assured him that he had not been drinking. It is the general opinion that he sat down to rest and fell asleep. The engineer says the engine threw him as high in the air as he had ever known it to throw a cow under similar circumstances, and also states that he discovered the dark object on the track, but of course too late to stop his train. After Johnson was put off at Lynchburg one of his colored friends started for a physician to come to his assistance.

The Independent Movement.

"Independency" in this county is a failure as well as in other parts of the State. Democrats will still control our Legislature, and Congressional aspirants of independent political proclivties will have to wait a while longer to re-district the State and so get to Congress. Senator Merrimon will have a Democratic successor—Had not this "independent" movement been so futile the woods would be full of independent. dents for Congress this fall. Some who have already withdrawn from the race might have been induced to run and would probably have been jubilant over their prospects. But about all the movement did was to show to the Democratic party to what straits they larger or smaller. were put to, and now that they have been so unsuccessful they will not renew the attempt in the fall.

We still maintain that there can be but two parties in the South, the Democratic party and the Radical party; all others are mere experiments.—We think the "independent" movement will be stopped now, and a square fight for members of Congress will be had. In this State we apprehend no trouble.

The Next House of Representatives.

In the present House eighteen States have a majority of Republican Representatives, in eighteen others the majority of the delegation is Democratic and in two—California and Florida and in two—California and Florida—the delegations are equally balanced.
The numerical majority of the Democrats will probably be increased, for while they may lose a member in New England, two in New York, one, perhaps, in New Jersey and one in Pennsylvania—five in all—they are pretty certain to gain three in Ohio, one in Indiana, one in Missouri, one or two in Illinois, one in Oregon, one in California and seven in the South, making fifteen or sixteen in all, and increasing fifteen or sixteen in all, and increasing their present majority by ten or

The Tobacco Trade.

The hot and dry weather had its efwishes of our merchants as regards the mooted Inland Ship Canal along the North Carolina coast.

The week and fect upon the tobacco markets as well as on the growing crop. Very little is coming into any of the warehouses, and we do not think it worth while to publish quotations at present. The drought and intense heat of the sun are having a bad effect upon the growing crop, and, while the stand is excellent, the yield will be small unless good rains shall speedly fall.

MOTHERS READ.

young, attractive, of good birth and speial position, both educated (one a graduate of Vassar College); both had left homes of comfort and ease, husbands and children, voluntarily, to take up this mode of life, which, in their case, could not boast of no attheir case, could not boast of no attractive gilding. The house in which they met their terrible fate was one of the lowest of its class; the men whom they chose as friends belonged to a wretched negro minstrel show—degraded, cowardly brutes who stood off in safety, watching them die. Only two or three days ago the police records of our own sity told an even cords of our own city told an even more pitiful tale. A father found his daughter in an infamous place, and strove by legal means to take her out. She defied him, the courts sustained her, and she went out gaily from the court room with her vile companions, giggling at the discomfiture of the broken-hearted father and brother, who stood with heads bowed in shame as they passed by.

The most frightful fact in our social life faces us in these stories. It is that there are women in this lowest deep who are not driven there by want or cruelty, not led there by a betrayed affection; women who have been gently reared, educated, beloved, but whose natures are so tainted that they choose to go out, like the prodigal of old, from the home God gave them, to feed with the swine. How many such are hidden in these dens, God only knows; how many remain in their original position, the records of our divorce courts, the foul gossip with which so-called fashionable society reeks, not only in this country, but England, gives us an appalling hint. It is useless to ignore this fact. Neither the pulpit nor the press, if it means to help at all in the work of bettering our social life, ought to ignore the fact that a certain portion of American and English society is rapidly becoming as licentious as that of Paris.

Who is to blame for it? Not human nature. Women and men are born as pure as they were a generation ago. Not Christ's religion. His hand is as America as liquor has. Not only was it the cause of our downfall, but modesty, honesty, and decency are sacri-ficed to it. Fashion now publishes even the rules for "first communion dresses," and sets forth the pipings and coiffure in which an innocent girl may properly approach her God.

There is nothing so holy that it is not made subsections. made subservient to it. It is not the wealthy mother alone who vitiates her child's mind by this worship of folly, but the mechanic's wife, the poor seamstress, whose aim is to "push her daughter on in society," to give her stylish dresses instead of a modest heart a clean mind and a God-fearing heart, a clean mind and a God-fearing soul. The moral traing which such mothers neglect is supplied by hotpressed, sensational juvenile literature and the reports of foul scandals in the newspapers. Listen to the precocious gossip of the flaunting, overdressed school girls who parade the streets on a holiday, and the tragedies in Phila-delphia and New York, which we have mentioned, will not seem a strange sequel to such training.

It is but to a certain portion of our society that these truths apply, and that the smallest. The great obscure mass of American women are honora-ble, chaste and modest. In the majority of our homes there are common sense and piety enough to give tawdry display its proper place in life, and to curb and direct the appetites which God has given to men and women. It rests with mothers to make that majority

A North Carolina Curiosity. From the Londou (Eng.) Era.

"There is here a wonderful curiosity of nature; she is Miss Millie Christine the Two-Headed Nightingale, who visited this country some years ago, and is again paying a visit to this country. * * * Miss Minnie Christine, the Two-Headed Nightingale, is blessed not only with two heads, but with a double propor-tion of arms and feet. In fact, she is more remarkable, and much more agreeable than the Siamese twins. She s a native of Columbus county. North pearance of the four feet capering over the carpeted floor, gives the idea of a perpetual waltz going on." What it Amounts to.

Congressional Convention.

A Convention of the Pemocrats and Conservatives of the Fourth District, will be held in the city of Raleigh, on Thursday the 22nd day of August next, for the purpos of nominating a candidate for Congress. Each county will be entitled to one vote for every one hundred votes and fractional part over flay, given for Gov. Vance in 1876. By order of District Ex. Committee, August 15th, 1878. By order o' the Executive Committee. GEO, H. GREGORY, Chairman GREENS OR?, N. C., July 17, 1878.

The Democrats of Granville. Courty Convention, have appointed ten delegates from each township to the Congressional nominating Convention which is to assemble in this city on the 22nd inst. No preference was expressed as to the candidate.

Our table on the first page has been erroneous in giving the name of one Republican as elected in the 36th Senatorial District. Jno. G. Bynum and A. M. Erwin, Esqs., are the Democratic Senators elect from the District. Both gentlemen made a gallant fight, and have been returned by signally handsome majorities.

! The Wilmington Review states the whole case in a nut-shell in the following terse words: "It is not the election of Independents that has done the people and the party any injury, but the effect they have had in the canvass by dividing the Democratic vote and giving the Radicals a chance to play their little game successfully

"The solidity of the South does'nt seem to be as solid as it was." says a leading Radical paper in Massachusetts. referring to the recent election in this State. It is just such taunts from such sources that we like to hear. If New England Radical glorification over Southern Democratic defection don' help to cure the evil, nothing will.

We admit the communication "Alma" with pleasure. While we join issue with our correspondent as to the propriety of breaking organization even with respect to minor offices, we hail with gratification the declaration that he, and others like him, will be faithful and true to the party colors in November. Let this be done and all will be right.

Ben Butler has interviewed Kcarney, the California agitator. Ben is a rich man, while K arney believes that property is a crime. Ben has been a vigorcus waver of the "bloody shirt," while Kearney is strong on the "ragged shirt." Behind these two, but soon to mingle in harmonious blending, there will probably be in the next political campaign a pretty large party basing its claim for recognition on what the Washington Post calls the negative virtue of "no shirt at all."

The fellow who applied to President Jackson for the position of Plenipotentiary to England, but finally compromised on a pair of second-hand breeches, always impressed us. To strive after much, and yet to be content with little, argues an admirable equipoise of disposition. Since the Jacksonian era, we have had, until to-day. no similar exhibition of big desires and small satisfaction. Henry N. Brown, of Orange, announces himself as a candidate for Congress in this District on the "People's Ticket," whatever that is. He adds, with admirable equanimity: "If I receive the votes only of Hugh Guthrie and Lewis Jenkins, I will live and die contented." Contentment alike in life and death awaiteth the happy Brown.

Our friends in Granville and Franklin are very much and justly elated over the splendid victories they achieved on Thursday last. All honor to them for their gallant efforts and glorious success! The Oxford Torchlight finds words too feeble for its felicita tions, and is immensely pictorial in the expression of its feelings-some of its designs being pat and striking. And our sister town of Louisburg, on Mon- the Electoral vote, or the presentation day night, was the scene of enthusiastic of Mr. Tilden to take the oaths of ofrejoicing over the brilliant redemption of Franklin, which resulted in the success of that gallant gentleman and Democrat, Charles M. DAILY NEWS, indictment for profacity the record of representative Southern gentlemen,should set out the profane words that the court may judge of their quality Why not? When uncle Toby vented that famous oath of is, in the cause of innocence and virtue, we are assured that, when it came to be noted down in Heaven's high charcery, the recording angel blotted it out with a tear. How the information was arrived at, we have no means of knowing, but such is the figurative asseveration. And who does not remember the famous colloquy in one of Scott's nevels, in which, if we mis ake not, the Earl of Bradwardine bore part where the "quality" of drunkenness received so critical an analysis, and the stages of ebrius and ebriosus were so experimentally discussed. We can well imagine that the quality of many a profane objurgation would be mightily affected or mitigated by the provocation; and therefore Judge Faircloth is nor so far wrong, afterall. If, for instance, the Judge himself were ever inclined (as we are sure he is not) to indulge in expletives, a retiring fusilade at the succession of a Democratic bench would be promptly condoned and forgiven under the circumstances,-and in view of the change!

There appear to be hopeless contradictions and absurdities in the recommendations of all the representative workingmen who present themselves before the Congressional Committee. now examining into the labor question in New York. There is not a man who reads these lines who can not find among his acquaintance an intelligent mechanic who can make more sensible suggestions than those offered by these persons who have been thrust forward. or thrust themselves forward, as 'representative" workingmen. There was an amusing colleguy on Friday between Robert H. Bartholomee, chairman of a delegation from the "socialis ic labor party of America," and one of the committee, concerning the proper division of money earned. Bartholomee was asked whether if a man earned $10,000 he should not be paid that amount. The answer was "certainly." "Then supposing a man earns $4,000, he is to be paid that amount?" "Certainly," again said Bartholomee. "Then, supposing that the man that earns $10,000 doesn't spend but $4,000, what is he to do with the other $6,000?" "Divide it up between different co operative societies," answered Bartholomee. "Then," said the committeeman, "if he is to give up $6,000, what is the use of his trying to earn $10,000 ?" Whereat Bartholomee

Menton Marble, formerly of the New York World, who stands in the most intimate relations to Mr Tilden, is out in a lengthy explanation of that gentleman's course previous to and during the pendency of the Electoral Commission bill. The statement is corroborative, in the main, of the declarations of Mr. Watterson in his recent controversy with the Hon. Abram S. Hewitt on the same subject. It is evident that Mr. Tilden's views and plans have been misunderstood and misrepresented, and that he was hostile to the creation of the Commission. To use the language of one of his cotemporaneous telegrams, "nothing but great and certain public danger, not to be escaped in any other way, could excuse such a measure."

Heaven knows we have no word of pology or toleration for the frauduleut abuse of its power and disregard of its obligations by the Electoral Commission. We have no syllable of defence for the spurious title of President Hayes. We do not feel, either, any of that sickly sentimentality which goes into raptures over him for restoring their autonomy to the States of South Carolina and Louisiana. He did but do his constitutional duty and possibly he really contracted, as the Potter investigation would appear to have proven, with certain parties before hand, to do what he did as the equivalent for a false count. However that may be, it is one of the most melancholy evidences of the political degeneracy of the times, that the Chief Magistrate of the nation should exact, or should be accorded, gratitude for the discharge of sworn duty.

But what we set out to say is this Mr. Tilden, in his natural desire for the great prize of the Presidency to which he had undoubtedly been elected by a large majority of the people and a de cided majority of the Electoral vote, under-estimated the peril in which the country actually stood in the winter of 1876-'7. And neither Mr. Tilden nor any one else can ever successfully question the high and pure and patriotic purposes of those Democrats,-principally the Representatives from the Southern States, -who gave in their adhesion to the constitution of the Electoral Commission. We were on the very brink and verge of civil war. Grant had summoned his battalions to Washington to enforce the inauguration of a Radical Executive, and a large secretly-enrolled force in the Northwest were banded together to protect the popular verdict. The attempt of the President of the Senate to count fice, would have been followed by blood, and would have culminated in anarchy. Then it was that the Electoral Commission was suggested and adopted, and (who have, so many of them, been unjustly assailed for their participation in in saving that Union to which they had been malignantly branded as traitors. Radical party. The Democratic party of this country will not have accomplished its mission until it shall have been rewarded for its patriotism and patience in the momentous crisis referred to,-until it shall have obtained that cont. ol of the gov. ernment of which it has been fraudulently and infamously despoiled. With a view to the perpetuation of the Radioal party in power, Grant, the ironhanded despot who was ready to use the army to crush the public will in 1876. is to be nominated for a third term in 1880, in defiance of the spirit of the Constitution and the genius of our institutions. The Congressional elections to take place in November may determine, virtually, the next Presidential contest. At all events, they will decide whether, if the country shall again be cursed with a Radical President, whether Grant or any one else. we are to have a check, in a Democratic Congress, on the corruption, the usurpations and the opp ossions of such rule. In such an issue the people of the South are vitally interested. Upon its solution depend their dearest rights, if not their very political existence. To disorganize or divide the Democratic party now, in the face of such perils and responsibilities, were a folly and a crime which words are impotent to measure. Democrats of North Carolina, any one Congressional District in our State may solve the tremenious problem before us! To state the case is the most imperious incentive to duty !

Iuland Navigation.

We have been favored with a copy of memorial addressed to the Congress of the United States by the President and Directors of the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal Company. The paper is devoted to an exhaustive statement of the alleged advantages of the route through the Albemarle and Chesapeake Canal over that through the Dismal Swamp Canal, in avoiding the dangerous coast of our State by the cheapest, quickest and most practicable route. It is prepared with great care and presents many striking facts and

As we approach 1880, we believe the Democrats, the liungry "outs" included, will naturally be drawn closer together. All will see that all the Southern States are necessary to ensure the election of a Democratic President. The loss of a single one of these States might result in the election of Grant. All will see this if they do not now, and we will be much mistaken if the tasks of the Independent busy-bodies are not greatly increased as the hour of final victory draws pear. The man who does aught to weaken the only organization that can achieve such a victory will deserve and will assuredly receive all the punishment that the organization can inflict. And no one will have an equitable right to protest against such a course of natural justice, or the power to give such a protest any weight whatever. - Atlanta (Ga.) Constitution.

PLANING MACHINES,

(From Rev. Mr. Cameron, Minister of the Presbyterian Church South.)

Mossy Creek, Tenn., August 22, 1876.

Xanthine Co., Richmond, Va.;

I have used the Xanthine now for three years, and have induced others to try it, and have never known it to fail in accomplishing all you claim for it. It is an excellent tonic a pleasant dressing, removing and preventing dandruff and all unpleasant itching, promoting and preserving the natural growth and color of the hair, and rendering it glossy and pliable. I confidently, cheerfully and knowingly recommend it.

As has been before stated the trip will be entirely without cost as regards tickets, they having been provided by the generous Virginians. The number of the excursionists from Raleigh will be increased by others from the various points between this place and Greensboro, at which place they will meet delegations from Charlotte, Salisbury, Salem, Winston and other points, all of them arriving in Richmond at 2:55 this morning. Most of the visi-tors will remain four or five days, and a portion of them will do the Greenbrier White Sulphur Springs before returning. This exhibition of friendly feeling on the part of the merchants of Richmond can not be too highly commended, and it will without doubt redound to their benefit, as a better opportunity will be given our merchants of knowing their brethren across the border, and North Carolinans will be enabled to appreciate the inducements which are offered by Richmond to them as a place in which to make their purchases. Aside from the business as pect of the occasion, it will be an affair of great social enjoyment and these meetings and interchange of views by any class of men are always prolific of the best results. The News appreciating the importance of the affair, sends its local editor along to give its readers a full and graphic account of all the scenes and incidents, in fact, a description of every thing that may transpire, and the penpictures which he will give us of this famous city on the banks of the James; the hospitality of its citizens and the enterprise of her merchants will not be read without pleasure and profit by any person in the State.

Aug. 6-d & wlyeow. Western North Carolina Rail-

The withdrawalby Weddin & Bailey of their coaches and teams from the Western North Carolina Railroad, at Henry, will result in no inconvenience to the traveling public, as an entirely new outfit of coaches, carriages and hacks, with splendid horses, was placed on the line between Henry and Ashe-ville, by Brown and Verble, before the above mentioned withdrawal of Weddin & Bailey.

The new line offers every facility for the accomodation and convenience of the public. Families can still have conreyances to themselves when desired. Railroad companies and others who have been selling tickets to Asheville and Warm Springs with coupons attached for stage line from head of Western North Carolina Railroad, will continue to do so, as such coupons will be recognized and received for fare over the new line.

This celebrated blood purifying remedy has long been recognized by the physicians in the North and East for its very remarkable curative properties, and is universally used in their private practice. Vegetine contains no minerals, but is a purely vegetable rem dy, and strengthens and invigorates the system in a manner that astonishes all who have either tried it themselves or seen its effects upon others. Scrofu's of twenty five years standing, and prenounced by scient fic physicians hope-lessly incurable, has disappeared after Vegetine has been used but a short time, and the worst ulcers and ruuning sores, have been cured by the use of a few bottles. Dr. H. R. Stevens, of Boston, Mass., the proprietor of this wonderful medicine, has thousands and thousands of letters, all testifying to its virtues, and from parties who can be communicated with, should any one so desire. #### Clear the Way.

For the escape from the system of its wast and debris, which, if retained, would vitiatt the bodily fluids and overthrow health. That important channel of exit, the bowels, may be kept permanently free from obstructions by using the non griping, gently acting and agreeable cathartic, Hosteltar's Stomach Bitters, which not only liberates impurities, but invigorates the lining of the intestinal canal when weakened by constipation or the unwise use of violent purgatives. The stomach, liver and urinary organs are likewise reinforced and aroused to healthful action by this beneficent tonic and corrective, and every o gap, fiber, muscle and nerve experiences a share of its invigorating influence. Unobjectionable in flaver, a most genial and wholesome medicinal stimulant, and owing its efficacy to botanic sources exclusively, it is the remedy best adapted to household use on account of its safety, while scope and and speedy action.

chief stock raisers and sporting men of this country.

A valuable horse of the writer's was kicked on the bock. Swe ling and lameness ensued, rendering the animal nearly worthless. We were advised to try Giles' Liniment, and are gratified to say it acted like a charm. About two inches of bone came away, the sore hesled up, and the lameness and swelling are fast disappearing.

It drives away all evidences of fatigue and excitement.

It makes the plainest face beautiful.

It gives the complexion a dazzling purity and makes the neck, face, and arms appear graceful, rotund, and plump.

It makes a matron of 35 or 40 look not more than 20 years old, and changes the rustic maiden into a cultivated city belle.

The Maguolia Balm removes all blemishes and conceals every drawbick to beauty; and while it is as harmless as water, it is so lifelike in its effects that the closest observer cannot detect its use.

Ladies who want to make themselves attractive can make an absolute certainty of it by using Hagan's Magnolla Balm, and we know of no other way. It is the cheapest preparation in the world, all things cousidered, and may be had at any drug store.
